

ABSTRACT

The Online Grade Submission System (OGSS) is a combination of web application and database system through which faculties of different departments of Tezpur University can submit grades of the students for the specific course in a particular term. For this, Head of the respective departments should assign a specific faculty to the specific course for that particular term. Grades, if needed, can also be changed later by the respective faculty within that term. Similarly, Faculties can be changed by the Head of the respective departments within that particular term. The OGSS enhances the capability of submitting or editing grades, viewing grades and other related works comparison to manual system. The feature of this project is high accuracy, design flexibility and easy availability. And also it uses database tables representing entities and relationship between entities.

This project represents a database driven approach to the manual approach, which is both effective to implement and support a full range of applications.
