

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The present work is a result of effort, cooperation, inspiration, guidance and help rendered by many individuals, to whom I owe my deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness. It is my solemn responsibility to place on record my sincere gratefulness to them at this moment of completing the project.

At the very outset, I would like to thank my supervisor Prof. Pradip Jyoti Mahanta for his constant support and encouragement throughout the term of this programme. I started my work when he was holding the position of Dean, School of Humanities and Social Sciences, Tezpur University. I feel deeply touched to remember that inspite of all his administrative and other academic responsibilities he always managed and spared his valued time for guiding me. Being his last research scholar at Tezpur University I had the privilege of getting maximum academic attention from him. While carrying out the research work he always gave me the freedom of thinking and exploring my work in my way. I am also highly amazed by his eye for detail in the correction at any point of writing that I submitted to him for scrutiny. Not a single word escapes his attention. The writings, that I submit to him return with many a correction or suggestion in red ink and those are sources of encouragement and happiness for me. He is a sea of knowledge in art and culture of Assam in particular and India in general. So along with guiding me in my research work, I am deeply grateful to him for sharing many of his experiences and knowledge about various popular and lesser known art and cultural forms of Assam in particular. This has significantly added to my knowledge. Apart from that the humbleness in him, the way he treats everybody at par is so memorable.

I would like to place on record my deep sense of gratitude to Prof. Mihir Kanti Chaudhuri, former Vice Chancellor, Tezpur University for being a mentor and guiding force throughout. He always kept an eye on each and every step of my research work. The pressure that he always put on me to finish my research work really helped me and pushed in winding up my work. Being an academician of national repute, his suggestions and advices on research and keeping oneself focussed have helped me immensely. Though his background is science but he has provided me with many study material which has helped in understanding things in a more focussed way. I am indebted to him for everything that he has offered to me to complete this project.

I must also thank Dr. Biren Das, Registrar Tezpur University for permitting me to carry out my research work on a part time basis by providing the NoC and granting me time to time leave.
