This thesis is the outcome of a few year of research journey in obtaining my Ph.D. This thesis has been kept on track and been seen through to completion with the support and encouragement of numerous people including my well wishers and my friends. At the end of my thesis, it is a very pleasant feeling to convey my thanks to all those who contributed in many ways to the success of this study and made it an unforgettable experience for me.

At first, I would like to thank to Almighty for giving me encouragement to complete this step.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my respected supervisor Prof.A.Choudhury for his inspiring guidance and letting me freedom of work which helped a lot in developing some independent thinking. I am grateful to Dr. D.Mohanta and Dr.G.A.Ahmed for their suggestions and timely help. I am grateful to all the faculty members of Department of Physics for their help and suggestions.

I am thankful to technical staff and Dr. Kishor Baruah for his help in arranging experimental set-up facilities throughout the study.

I would like to acknowledge the SAIF, NEHU, Shilong, CGCRI Kolkata for the help received for instrumentation facility.

I am truly thankful to my lab mates and friends Biswajit da, Bondita ba, Susmita and Pawan for their aspiring guidance, invaluable constructive criticism and friendly advice during my work. The homely atmosphere we enjoyed at laboratory definitely worked as a boost to my research work.

I am also thankful to all my friends Nibedita, Shyamalima ,Momina, Manjit, Nurjahan, Kakoli, Kashmiri, Koushik, Samiran, Monalisa ba, Sikha ba and Nilima Ba for their support and help. Thank you very much for being my wonderful friend.

I would also like to thank DST, New Delhi for financial support through INSPIRE scheme

Finally, I thank the authorities of Tezpur University for granting me the permission to do this work.
