This thesis would not have seen the light of the day but for constant support, encouragement and blessings of a number of people for whom I would be forever indebted.

I would like to express my most profound gratitude to my supervisor, Professor Gautam K Borah for all his invaluable support and guidance during this research. His suggestions coupled with incisive inputs in a number of areas have helped me immensely in giving a proper direction and inquiry in conducting this study.

I would also like to thank Professor Madan Mohan Sarmah and Professor Madhumita Barbora, who as the members of the Doctoral Committee have extended all possible support and advice during this study. Their comments and constructive suggestions have helped me immensely in giving proper shape and a structure to my work.

I am thankful to the faculty members and the staff of the Department of English and Foreign Languages, Tezpur University, for extending every possible support and cooperation during the conduct of this research.

I convey my sincerest appreciation to my colleagues at the Department of Humanities and Social Sciences, North Eastern Regional Institute of Science and Technology (NERIST), Nirjuli, Arunachal Pradesh, and my friends who have motivated me continuously to remain focused on my work. My wonderful students at NERIST deserve special thanks for allowing me to access their profiles and web pages and sharing their text messages for analysis during the research.

To my family, I owe everything for supporting me through thick and thin and showering me with love and care, and for keeping their faith in me intact over all these years.
