First and foremost I wish to express sincere gratitude to my Supervisor Dr. Gazi A. Ahmed, Department of Physics, Tezpur University for his continuous support in my Ph.D work and related research, for his patience, motivation, and inspiration. His guidance helped me during the research work and writing of this thesis. I could not imagine a better advisor for my Ph.D work. Not only in research but also he helped me academically and emotionally throughout this tough journey to accomplish my goals. I would always be grateful to him for offering me freedom in research.

I would also like to take the chance to offer special thanks and gratitude to my mentor Dr. Ankur Gogoi, J.B. College, Jorhat for his influential presence throughout this journey. Special mentions to his invaluable and inspiring advices during a crucial phase of my Ph.D work. Besides my supervisor he is also one of the person who set a direction to the road ahead.

I would also like to thank my Doctoral Committee: Dr. Shyamal Kumar Das, Dr. Amit Pathak and Dr. Rupjyoti Gogoi for their insightful comments and encouragement and positive assessment of my progress throughout my research work and timely advices for bettering various critical aspects of the work. I also express my sincere gratitude to Prof. Nidhi S. Bhattacharyya, Dr. Dambarudhar Mohanta and Dr. Pabitra Nath for their useful advices and encouragement during various phases of my research work.

I am grateful to my fellow labmates Deba da, Lakhi, and Bikash for their help, support, precious suggestions and also constructive discussions throughout this long journey. I would also like to thank my senior Dr. Ratan Baruah for his precious support and valuable advices regarding basic aspects of research to difficult and technical points throughout this journey.

I would also like to thank Patir da, Narayan da and all other members of the technical staff for their help in official works. I also thank the administrative and library staff of Tezpur University for their help and support.

I offer my sincere gratitude to all my friends, seniors and juniors for their continuous support, inspiration and all the positive discussions. Thank you Bijay, Naba, Deep, Arunav, Homen, Dhruva, Gautam, Samiran, Jagat da, Saurav da, Mani and Rajiv for the help and support during this work.

Special mentions must be made for Rocktotpal and Dipangkar for their continuous support and crucial help throughout the research work. Also I appreciate their timely assessment of my progress and positive criticism and regular research discussions.

Close friends are the strength during a tough and long journey like Ph.D. Thank you Pranjal and Pragyan for being always there for me during the best and worst phases. I will always remain grateful to this two impact persons for their wholehearted help and support not only during the research work but also in my life.

I finish with my lifeline: my beloved family. I have no words to express my gratitude to the most beautiful family for their unconditional support and all the selfless sacrifices they have made for me to help me reach my destiny and accomplish the most cherished dream of my life. I owe you everything “Maa”. I am indebted to someone who would have been the happiest person on this earth if he were alive “Deuta”.

I am grateful to God for being the driving force behind my entire journey and bringing me altogether towards my destiny.
