

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I take this opportunity to express my sincere and heartfelt thanks to all those concerned, whose contributions and support made it possible for me to complete this thesis.

First and foremost, I would like to express my sincere and heartfelt gratitude to my Supervisor Prof. D .C. Baruah for giving me the opportunity to work under him. Working under Sir was a whole new experience altogether. I am grateful to him for showing me the path towards good research, for developing my research curiosity and molding my research skills. It is through his constant guidance and support that I was able to develop the skills of innovative thinking and critical analysis. His judicious advice, intuitive suggestions, recommendations on all fronts, academic and personal, will always remain invaluable for me.

I convey my sincerest gratitude to my Doctoral Committee members Prof. R. C. Deka, Prof. Dilip Datta, Prof. D. Deka and Prof. R. Kataki for their advice, suggestions, comments, encouragement and support. I will always remain grateful to Dr. S Mahapatra, Dr. P.K. Choudhury, Dr. Nabin Sarma and Dr. Biraj Kumar Kakati for their support, encouragement and valuable advice.

With a special mention to Dr. Andrew Rollinson, I owe my sincere gratitude to Prof. Michele Clarke and Dr. Helen West of University of Nottingham for their immense help during experimentation.

I will always remain indebted to Prof. M. K. Hazarika for guiding me in developing the Artificial Neural Network models which are an important aspect of this study and also for his constant support.

I am also thankful to the Technical staff of Department of Energy Mr. Tapanjit Borah and Mr. T. Lahon for their help and support throughout my research work.

My sincere thanks to our research group Rupam Patowary, Dipam Patowary, Biswajit Gogoi, Barkhang Brahma, Bharat Terang and Trinakshee Sarmah for their help and support. I am also grateful to the PhD scholars of Department of Energy, for their help when required. Mr. Ranku Hazarika, Mr. Basudev Sarma, Mr. Nupur Nath, and Mr. Zakir Hussain deserve my gratitude and thanks for their immense help in field survey and experimentation during the tenure of my work.

I am grateful to the Management of my Institute, Girijananda Chowdhury Institute of Management and Technology – Tezpur, for allowing me to undertake my PhD work as a part-time candidate. My sincerest thanks to Prof. R. C. Goswami, Prof. T. K. Bhattacharjee, Mr. Bani Kanta Borah, all my colleagues and staff of GIMT-Tezpur for their help and support.

I am indebted to my parents for each and everything in my life. I dedicate this result to you 'MAA and DADDY'. I know that wherever you are, you are watching over me and blessing me. I don't have words to describe what you mean for me. You may not be physically present with me but I can feel your presence every moment of my life as a constant guiding and blessing force. I am also grateful to my brother Paran, for always being there for me and supporting me.

My wife Mridula, son Neer and daughter Niti deserve my sincerest gratitude for supporting me throughout this journey. Without you all, I would not have gotten so far. I know I have frustrated you enough, but you never showed your emotions which made me mentally strong. My gratitude is also due to Mr. Hara Kanta Sarma and Mrs. Jaya Devi, my beloved Father in-law and Mother in-law, for their love, care and encouragement. Also, Mr. Umesh Bhattacharya, Mr. Madan Goswami, Mrs. Meenakshi Devi, Mrs. Kabita Devi, Jaan, Emon, Maina and Rib deserve my gratitude for constantly supporting me.
