ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the very outset, it's my pleasant duty to acknowledge Dr Priya Ranjan Kumar, Associate Professor, Head of the Department, Department of Law, Tezpur University, for allowing me to write the Dissertation entitled "Animal sacrifice and Religion: A Socio-Legal Study with special Reference to Tezpur, Assam" and also for his valuable and scholarly suggestion, encouragement and guidance from time to time which is always an inspiration to me.

I take this opportunity to thank my research guide, Dr Madhumita Acharjee, Assistant Professor, Department of Law, Tezpur University, for her perineal support and guidance. Only because of her kindness, encouragement and supervision could I research a complex and challenging subject area such as animal sacrifice. In the myths of various preoccupations, Ma'am enthusiastically devoted much of her valuable time and energy and guided me patiently in preparing and accomplishing this Dissertation. Such a helpful approach from my guide was very encouraging. Therefore, I sincerely thank my guide for her persistent inspiration and uniting supervision in preparing this Dissertation.

I would like to extend my deep gratitude and indebtedness to the respected faculty members of the Department of Law, Tezpur University, for their support.

I also thank the whole staff of the Central Library of Tezpur University.

I am indebted to the various authors of the books and articles I consulted and referred to in preparing this Dissertation.

Last, I would like to thank my parents for their constant support and encouragement and my friends who directly or indirectly helped me complete this Dissertation.
