

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Title	Page No.
Abstract	i-ix
Declaration	x
Certificate of the Supervisor	xi
Acknowledgements	xii-xiv
Table of Contents	xv-xix
List of Images	xx
Glossary	xxi-xxii
Map	xxiii- xxvi
 CHAPTER 1	 1-75
Introduction
1.1 Introduction	1
1.2 Statement of the Problem	3
1.3 Research Objectives	7
1.4 Research Questions	8
1.5 Theoretical Framework	9
1.5.1 Presentation of Self in Everyday Life	9
1.6 Conceptual Framework	12
1.6.1 Middle Class	13
1.6.1.1 Habitus and Respectable Femininity	15
1.6.2 Stigma	19
1.6.3 Space	21
1.6.4 Agency	25
1.7 Literature Review	28
1.7.1 Terms, terrains, tensions- some reflections	28
1.7.2 What is hijab and how it has to be observed - perspective from a divine decree and Prophetic tradition	30
1.7.2.1 Practices of Women's Head Covering in Traditions Other than Islam	33
1.7.3 Elucidation of specific Quranic passages related to female dress code	34

1.7.3.1 To cover or not to: Critical engagement on Muslim women's covering practices	37
1.7.4 Empirical works	41
1.8 Research Methodology and Methods	53
1.9 Field Experience and Researcher's Positionality	59
1.9.1 Women interviewing women- a special bond of womanhood	62
1.10 Chapterization	63
References	65-75
CHAPTER 2	76-107
Arrival of Islam in Barak Valley and Locating the Muslim Women in the field
2.1 Introduction	76
2.2 Historical progression of Barak Valley through ages	82
2.3 Etymology of the term 'Karimganj'	84
2.4 Spread of Islam in Sylhet-Cachar region	85
2.5 Karimganj district -Present day	89
2.6 Classification of Muslims	90
2.7 Classification among Muslims: Locating the participants	91
2.8 Conclusion	102
References	104-107
CHAPTER 3	108-158
Visibility and Performance of Religious Practices in Everyday Lives:
Looking where and how Sacred Presence is invoked
3.1 Introduction	108
3.2 Early childhood: Richly and textured religious socialization at home	110
3.2.1 The setting: Informal religious teachings	111
3.2.2 To remain tactful	112
3.2.3 Looking in the most obvious spaces–Formal religious teaching	114
3.2.3.1 An additional observation on dressing–embodied moral habitus	115
3.2.4 Sacralising domestic spaces	116
3.3 Going back in time–Mother's look at their religious knowledge	117

3.3.1	Through their eyes: Unveiling the social significance of matat unna deo aa (head-covering)	119
3.3.2	Salwar Kameez and unna - Subtle and nuanced mode of bodily embodiment	121
3.3.3	Chokor and mator purdah – changes and continuation	122
3.3.3.1	Key take aways	125
3.4	Respectable dressing (bodro kapor) is intertwined with the notions of shorom (shame) and izzat (honour) -spoken often in moral acumen	127
3.4.1	Women in public space and potency of gossip	132
3.5	Then versus now phenomenon- Some reflections	134
3.6	Questioning, bargaining and complying culturally gendered norms - religion is part of the conversation of everyday life	137
3.6.1	Education and its importance	138
3.6.2	Historical noble women of Islam and particularly their mode of comportment	142
3.6.3	Men’s hijab and its ambivalence	144
3.7	Conclusion	146
	References	153-158

CHAPTER 4 159-214

Exploring Hijabi Students’ College Experience: Navigating Home and College life

4.1	Introduction	159
4.2	Turning points in life-heart changing personal experience	162
4.2.1	What the participant says on wearing it for the first time	163
4.2.1.1	Reactions from their friends and family	168
4.3	Social interactions and life in college	172
4.3.1	Affinity towards Muslim friends	172
4.3.2	Diverse group of friends	175
4.3.3	Negotiating boundaries with male classmates and relationships	177
4.3.3.1	Developing romantic relationships	180
4.3.4	Aspiring to succeed- academic and career aspirations	184
4.3.5	Participation in extra-curricular activities	187
4.4	Perceptions about hijab wearers among non-Muslims	190

4.4.1	Innocent questions, loaded with judgement and the responsibility to educate	190
4.4.2	Managing stigma- Coping strategy of hijabi students	196
4.4.2.1	Silencing self and ignore	196
4.4.2.2	Engaging with the online content	197
4.5	Teacher narratives on Muslim female students- what the teacher says	199
4.5.1	Perceptions of teachers on Muslim women students- the puzzling issue	199
4.6	The Hijab Ban controversy and its implications on the students (As of writing this section the ban is still in effect)	203
4.7	Conclusion	207
	References	210-214
	CHAPTER 5	215-260
	Understanding hijab: Unfolding the narratives of women who took hijab
5.1	Introduction	215
5.2	Exposure to religious teachings and resources on the internet: Seeking religious knowledge with the help of technology	218
5.2.1	Muslims on social media: Instagram is the milieu that promotes visual culture of Islamic textual repertoire	219
5.3	Freedom with limit-story so far	224
5.4	Young women's perspectives on hijab: Why	226
5.4.1	Imaginative stories were created and linked with religion	226
5.4.2	Becoming aware of religious obligations-It's about Knowledge	228
5.4.3	What happens if one does not obey?	230
5.5	Hijab and male sexuality - a conundrum/ambivalence	232
5.5.1	'Their eyes are like an x-ray machine - scanning from top to bottom': Privacy and protection from male gaze	236
5.6	Ke ami, amar pehchan banai aa rakte lagbo. (Who am I? Construction of Religious Identity in times of Crisis)	240
5.6.1	Changes in political attitudes of Muslims	241
5.6.1.1	Effects of internal and external events	241
5.6.2	Adab - modest public behaviour	243
5.7	Hijab with fashionable clothes - comfort, modesty and fashion	245

5.7.1	Hijab now- fashion and social media	245
5.7.1.1	Dynamism to practice of covering	246
5.7.1.2	Fashionable hijab wearers and its discontents	248
5.7.1.3	Moral policing	250
5.8	Sources of hijab information and shopping practices	251
5.9	It is not plain and boring- Hijab in social gatherings	252
5.10	Conclusion	254
	References	256-260
	CHAPTER 6	261-270
	Conclusion
6.1	Limitations of the present research and possible future research implications	268
	References	269-270
	Bibliography	271-292
	Appendix-I	293-294
	Interview Proforma
	Appendix-II	295
	Hijabi Participants travelling to different parts of India
	List of Publications	296