Acknowledgement

First of all I would like to thank former head of the department, Dr. Robin Deka, associate professor of department of Sociology and Dr. Kedilezo Kikhi, head of the department of sociology, Tezpur University for granting me permission to undertake this project. Conducting this project has been both Challenging and difficult to fulfilling. This project has not been fulfilling without the help and support of many people.

At the outset I would like to offer my sincere gratitude to my supervisor Salah Punathil, Assistant Professor, Department of Sociology, Tezpur University. He not only helps me in selection of research problem but also emphasizes on self training as well as his creative ideas have made conducting this project exciting and stimulating. I would also like to extend my gratitude to the other faculty members of the Department of Sociology for taking out to help me in the project.

I would like to offer my indebtedness to all Assamese-Sikh community people in Borkola village, Manu Dekaraja and Pujariji of Gurudwara Nanakeswar for their kind help and response.

I would also like to give special thanks to my family members giving technical support and moral encouragement. Last but not the least I thank all my friends for their valuable encouragement
