ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The objective of any research would have been incomplete until its documentation is completed. A research project of this dimension would have been impossible without the help and guidance of a few people to whom I would like to extend my fullest gratitude.

At the very outset I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my Supervisor Dr. A. S. Shimreiwung for his invaluable guidance, support and encouragement throughout the study and completion of the project work.

I am also highly thankful to all the faculty members of our department who have always lend their helping hand to me and have enriched my work with their valuable insights, suggestions and guidance.

I am also indebted to the village head-men of village Chengapara-2 and Bor-Kumarpara, and the villagers of those two villages who enriched my work with their valuable insights on issues related to my topic.

I would also like to extend my sincere gratitude to my family members, and my friends for their moral support and suggestions during the project work. In the absence of the help and support of these people this project would not have been completed.
