ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I express my heartiest thanks and profound gratitude to my supervisor Prof. S. K. Samdarshi, Department of Energy, Tezpur University, for his utmost help and motivation in all stages of this work. His sound guidance, valuable suggestions, persistent encouragement, creative criticism, and scientific approach has taught me the rudiments of the subject, helped me overcome challenges and defend the results in the best possible way. The most important aspect that I have learnt from my interactions with him is the technique of conducting a successful research in a time-bound frame. I am indebted to him for the fruitful culmination of this work and look forward to continue his guidance in future.

I am immensely grateful to Prof. D.C. Baruah, Head, Department of Energy, Tezpur University, for his official initiatives, kind guidance and the most generous support offered in times of need. His invaluable teachings, proactive suggestions, motivation towards perfection and rigorous supervision have instilled in me the discipline to persistently perform towards my goal.

I would like to offer my warm regards and sincere thanks to the other faculty members of the Department of Energy, viz., Prof. D. Deka, Dr. R. Kataki, Dr. Pankaj Kalita, Mr. Sadhan Mahapatra and Mr. P.K. Choudhury for their invaluable teachings and kind guidance during the entire M.Tech Programme. I am also thankful to Prof. D K Bhattacharyya, Dean, School of Engineering, for extending his help and support whenever required.

I am highly grateful to Mr. P.K.Dash, Scientist "B", Solar energy centre, Gurgaon, for being my external supervisor letting me carry out my project work with great supervision and support.

I would like to unfailingly acknowledge the valuable suggestions, help and assistance of Mr. Tapanjit Bora and Mr. Troilokya Lahon of the Department of Energy.

Special thanks go to the research scholars of the SEM Lab. Ms. Bijumani Rajbonshi, Mr. Anjalu Ramchiary and Ms. Ranjana Verma for their invaluable suggestions and patient supervision whenever required; and to my colleagues Randhir Sharma, Kumar Gaurav, Navajyoti Sarma and Avinash Kumar Singh for their kind co-operation and moral support for the timely completion of this work.

The support of the staff, senior colleagues and all my friends of the Department of Energy has made my work a lot easier and comfortable. I heartily acknowledge them for their valuable presence and interactions.

Last, but not the least, my indebtedness remains towards my family members (Papa, Maa, Sanjeev Bhaiya) and Vijaysakshi, Vijay Pradhan for their constant encouragement and support in all possible respects throughout the duration of my M.Tech. Programme.

Deepak Sagar
