

Acknowledgements

"We must find time to stop and thank the people who make a difference in our lives",

–John F. Kennedy

The writing of this dissertation has been one of the most significant academic challenges I have ever faced. I would like to thank God Almighty for giving me the strength, knowledge, ability and opportunity to undertake this research study and to persevere and complete it satisfactorily. Throughout this journey I have been kept on track till the completion of this thesis with the support and encouragement of numerous people. At the end of this thesis, it is a pleasant task to express my gratitude and thanks to all those who contributed in many ways to make this journey worthwhile.

First of all I owe my deepest gratitude to Prof. K. K. Baruah who undertook to act as my supervisor despite his many other academic and professional commitments. His wisdom, knowledge and commitment to the highest standards always inspired and motivated me.

I am also greatly indebted to my co-guide Dr. J. K. Tripathi, Jawaharlal Nehru University for his valuable advice throughout this thesis.

I owe a special sense of gratitude to Prof. V. Rajamani for introducing me to the discipline of geochemistry and making me realise the importance of earth system science.

I thank Prof. M. K. Chaudhuri, former Vice Chancellor, Tezpur University for his constant motivation to finish my work.

I thank my esteemed colleagues Dr. Nirmali Gogoi, Dr. Ashalata Devi, Dr. Amit Prakash, Dr, Manish Kumar, Prof. R. R Hoque, Prof. K. P. Sarma, Dr. S. S. Bhattacharya and Dr. Sudip Mitra for their help and cooperation throughout my PhD work. I thank my colleagues Dr. Santa Kalita and Dr. Nayanmoni Gogoi for their moral support during the writing of this thesis.

I thank my DRC members Prof. Apurba K. Das and Prof. Ashok Kumar for their helpful comments and suggestions during my progress report presentations.

The road to my PhD started with training at School of Environmental Sciences, JNU, New Delhi. I take this opportunity to say my sincere thanks to Dr. N. S. Siddaiah, Prof. A. L. Ramanathan, Prof. A. P. Dimri and Prof. Kasturi Dutta for their encouraging words. My heartfelt thanks to my friend Dr. Chinmaya Maharana for his helpful suggestions and encouragement during my PhD. I would also like to thank my labmates Dr. Sandeep K. Gautam, Dr. Divya Sharma, Dr. Dipika, Swati, Monika, Maroof, Tanu, Rajamanickam, Anurag and Saurabh for their help and cooperation.

I would like to gratefully acknowledge my labmates in Tezpur University Nirmali, Ashmita, Leena, Anushree, Parijat, Dipti, Dipankar and Abhijit for their help and cooperation. I would also like to thank Rajesh and Suranjana for their help in the study area maps. I would like to acknowledge the help received from Jintu, Jayanta da, Pranjal da and Partho during my PhD.

Words are not enough to express my deep sense of gratitude to my friends Somya , Mousumi, Amrita, Pyarimohan, Chinmaya, Yama, Ravi, Seema, Sasmita, Monika, Bidyum for their constant support and encouragement throughout my PhD work. They were always beside me during the happy and difficult moments to push and motivate me.

My special acknowledgment to Dr. Prativa Deka, Nilakshi, Pragyan, Jyotilima, Pinky and Rimjim for their help in the sample collection.

I owe a special thanks to my husband Debasish without whom this effort would not have been fruitful. Your love, support and constant patience have taught me so much about sacrifice, discipline and compromise- even if there were times when I was so impatient. I can see the good shape of this thesis because of your help and suggestions in formatting and editing the entire thesis.

I would like to extend my sincere thanks to my mother-in-law, Mrs Rina Borah and my brothers-in-law Bishnu, Partha and Ankur for their encouragement during my PhD.

Last but not the least I would pay my high regards to my Ma, Deuta and Abhi. Without their sincere encouragement and inspiration it would not have been possible to reach to the completion of my thesis. I owe everything to them.

Besides this, several people have knowingly and unknowingly helped me in the successful completion of this thesis. I owe my sincere acknowledgement to all of them.

June 2017

Tezpur

(Sumi Handique)